Color your world this summer by exploring art. Each time you get to know one of our artists in history (by reading 1000 pages of your choice), bring your "catalog" into the Library for a small reward. Creative geniuses include one of the first artists known by name, Phidias (1000 pages), Renaissance great Leonardo DaVinci (2000 pages), and 20th century trailblazer Georgia O'Keefe (3000 pages). You can earn extra page points by completing "canvases." Each activity may be used only once, but can be earned at any time during your "creative process."

In addition, if you successfully complete your catalog before Saturday, July 26th, you'll be entered into our final drawings, be invited to our final party, and receive five $1 coupons to use toward any unfortunate fine incidents that may occur.
